EDITORIAL NOTE
This month, I attended the FIDIC Global Infrastructure Conference in Geneva. During a panel session on energy and technology I highlighted the need for collaboration between the EU institutions and for industry engagement in policymaking, together with other players across the construction value chain, in order to scale up the energy transition; and for support measures to tackle climate change.

As EFCA turns 30, we are getting ready to invite you all to the anniversary reception. You are welcome to join us on 16 November at 7 pm in Brussels. Register here
